Poitín

Poitín or poteen is a traditional Irish distilled, highly alcoholic beverage (60%-90% ABV).

Poitín was traditionally distilled in a small pot still and the term is a diminutive of the Irish word pota, meaning "pot".

It is traditionally distilled from malted barley, grain, potatoes or whey.

€9.50

rish moonshine, along with all other private distillation not specifically licensed by the state, was outlawed in 1661.

On 7 March 1997, the Irish Revenue Commissioners withdrew their opposition to Poitín being sold under license in the Republic of Ireland.

In the early 1700's the Campbells of Jura evicted a wise old seeress. Bristling with resentment, she prophesied that the last Campbell to leave the island would be one-eyed with his belongings carried in a cart drawn by a lone white horse. In 1938 it came true when Charles Campbell, blind in one eye from the Great War, led his white horse to the old pier for the last time. Just like Jura, Prophecy is a dram that's steeped in stories, and every drop has a different tale to tell.
